

Day 1

Authentication Implementation

I have spent most of today writing documentation and deciding which Authentication method to use for the API and how to implement that authentication method.

API Authentication

I have decided to use OAuth2 authentication between the front end and the back end. I will use google as the OAuth provider.